

Rechalim

SAVING LIVES – EVERY SINGLE DAY!

It was a dark and quiet night in Rechalim when three hostile Arabs approached the community carrying tires and flammable materials. Their sinister plan was simple - to ignite a fire that would spread rapidly through the dry brush and endanger the lives of innocent families. The watchful eyes of the Rechalim surveillance cameras were quickly upon them, dispatching security team members to the scene. At the sight of the Rechalim first responders, the terrorists fled the scene. But opening the old emergency gate proved a stubborn obstacle, slowing the responders and giving the terrorists a crucial head start. Sadly, the terrorists slipped into the darkness, able to plan their next attack.

Rechalim, a vibrant and growing community in Samaria, offers young religious couples a unique combination of country living, affordable and spacious homes, and convenient access to the city. Just a ten-minute drive from Ariel, residents enjoy easy access to employment opportunities, a university, and city amenities. Much more than a great location, Rechalim is a warm, close-knit community where everyone is family.

But beyond the idyllic hills surrounding Rechalim, a stark reality looms. Hostile Arabs from nearby villages relentlessly attempt to uproot Jewish presence in Samaria, threatening the safety of innocent families. The old emergency gate, easily compromised with a pair of tin scissors, poses a daily threat to the families of Rechalim. And in a crisis when time is of the essence, a new, quick-opening gate is critical to facilitate swift response.

The Rechalim surveillance cameras, purchased by generous CFOIC Heartland donors, help detect suspicious activities and provide valuable advanced warnings during the day. But these cameras' limited nighttime range creates a dangerous vulnerability as night falls. Mobile trail cameras, equipped with state-of-the-art infrared lenses and sensors, are critically needed to enable quicker and more efficient response time in the face of potential threats. A thermal drone would further expand nighttime capabilities and improve their ability to manage emergency events. Protective equipment is vital so that safety is not compromised. The Rechalim rapid response team must have protective helmets to avoid injury while carrying out their mission. Rechalim critically needs to expand its security capabilities - Lives are at stake!

Rechalim desperately needs to fortify its surveillance and security equipment to face rising security threats. Without the proper security equipment, Rechalim's rapid responders are at a significant disadvantage. A fast-opening emergency gate, infra-red trail cameras, protective helmets, and a thermal drone will help Rechalim manage hostile attacks more efficiently. Your gift will help protect the pioneers of Rechalim so they can live and develop the Biblical Heartland in safety and security.
